GENERAL CONTRACTORS

The first work stoppage at Mississippi Test Operations started yesterday when labor on two projects for which Warrior Constructors, Inc., Houston, is the contractor, ceased. Approximately 80 employees working on the laboratory and engineering building and on the bascule bridge are involved. Contract price for the building was $3,480,000 and for the bridge, $1,299,900.

Yesterday a spokesman for Warrior Constructors said the company was unable to say what the cause of the walkout was since the company so far had not received any formal notice from the unions.

R. B. Taylor from the New Orleans office of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service advised the Echo yesterday afternoon that he was uncertain at that time of the cause but that a meeting between representatives of the unions, the Corps of Engineers and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service was scheduled for last night at the Broadwater Beach Hotel to discuss the issues involved. After that meeting he said he hoped to arrange a session between representatives of the unions, Warrior Constructors and the sub-contractors under Warrior.

Julian Chamberlain, labor relations advisor, Corps of Engineers, Mobile district, issued the only official release and it merely said:

"There is an apparent dispute between unions and Warrior Constructors, Inc., Houston, Tex. Only two contracts are involved. However, moneywise they represent about 15 per cent of the over-all construction in progress. About 80 people are involved. The remainder of the work is going along O. K. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation representatives in New Orleans have advised they are trying to arrange an early meeting between the disputers".

MTO equipment ups assessment

Hancock County's personal property assessment has been swelled in the amount of $85,425 as the result of three days' checking of contractor equipment on construction projects at Mississippi Test Operations.

"That's a fair amount but it's not nearly what we're going to get," reported Tax Assessor George Heitzmann who spent two days last week on the site and one this week along with R.E.L. Gentry of the State Tax Commission who has been assigned here to assist with assessment chores.

The figure represents equipment of 11 contractors on the job and Heitzmann figures quite a few more remain to be assessed including C. H. Leavell and Peter Kiewit Sons who have established offices here and have the $13 million contract for the Saturn second stage test stand.

Notices were sent Tuesday to about 30 sub-contractors at MTO telling them to appear in the assessor's office at the Courthouse Jan. 7 and 8 with lists of their equipment. Notices also were mailed to all 311 busi-

Texas duo gets 3rd MTO job

C. H. Leavell and Co. and Peter Kiewit Sons' Co. (joint ventures) of El Paso, Tex., this week got another construction contract at Mississippi Test Operations.

Latest job is a $1,456,819 one calling for construction of a central control building and a data handling center, Col. D. A. Raymond, U. S. Army District Engineer at Mobile, announced.

The control building to serve as headquarters for safety and security control for the entire test area, will contain facilities for monitoring and supervising activities by two-way voice communications. It will be a two-story concrete and steel structure, 55 feet wide and 186 feet long, with an observation tower.

The data handling center will house equipment and personnel for processing and storing test data received from data acquisition facilities for use in preliminary test analyses and in the preparation of engineering reports. It will be a two-story

City acquires land toward new high school

Deeds to 16.51 acres of the land in the Blue Meadow Road area to be used for a new high school have been delivered and recorded, Sam L. Favre, board attorney, told trustees of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System at Monday night's monthly meeting.

Purchase price for 16.3 acres of the old Blanchard property was $24,070 and for 2.21 acres from Miss Carmilla Moore was $3,701.75. Purchase of additional land for the school from Edwin Beyer has not been completed.

The board voted to ask the city to borrow $30,000 against this year's tax receipts for operating expenses and approved the transportation voucher numbers 240 through 294 and the district maintenance and other costs voucher numbers 30 through 38.

Festive Yule season opens

OPENS FOR YULE

Bay Postoffice will be open until 5 p.m. this Saturday as well as next Wednesday to cope with the Christmas mail rush. Postmaster Andy J. Becker reminds.

IN CRASH

A traffic accident at Washington and Third Streets at 7:05 p.m. Wednesday caused about $100 personal damage but no injuries. City police officers John Kachler and Robert Goodsell reported that Edna Thornton, Bay St. Louis, was driving west on Washington and collided with a car driven by Pete Burney, Negro, Bay St. Louis, who was traveling north on Third. Burney was tried in mayor's court for reckless driving and fined $7.

TRED CROSS MEET

Mrs. Winthrop Baker, Mrs. Kenneth Pepperdene and Mrs. John Middleton attended the Red Cross hospital council meeting at Keeler Air Force Base Dec. 11, taking with them gifts made and furnished by the Hancock County chapter. Such items as slippers, Christmas goodies, small gifts, colored and broken glass for mosaics and a large assortment of postal stamps were among the things they took to be distributed to the veterans.

YULE PARTY

Clermont Harbor Home Demonstration Club had its Christmas party on Dec. 2 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Goodloe. Thought the season was "Christmas celebration and there to celebration that compares with the true meaning." Games were played and gifts were exchanged among members.

CLAIMS DEFAMATION

A suit for defamation was filed last Friday in Hancock County Circuit Court against Powell Glass, Jr., editor of the Sea Coast Echo, by Cornelius J. Ladner. Ladner claims that a picture of him taken at a hospital board meeting, captioned "Colborn" appears in vain, and printed in the March 21 issue of the Sea Coast Echo as part of a news story about board meeting damaged him in the amount of $75,000.

CODES WORKSHOP

Henry Chapman, member of the City Planning Commission, and Lucien H. Raymond, Jr., represented Bay St. Louis at a municipal codes workshop Dec. 9-10 at the University of Mississippi sponsored by its city planning department.

VARSITY VS. FACULTY

Hancock North Central's varsity cagers will challenge the faculty in a benefit basketball game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Thursday, Dec. 19, on the Hawk court.

HGH bonds move ahead, county joins L&N war

The proposed $175,000 bond issue to provide local matching funds for the expansion of Hancock General Hospital cleared its first hurdle Monday when no petitions in objection were filed with the board of supervisors.

Supervisor James Necaise of Beat 4 promptly moved to proceed with the next steps in order to meet the deadline imposed by the federal grant of $272,763 to start construction by next Jan. 31.

The board directed Lucien M. Gex, attorney, to prepare a resolution in vigorous opposition to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad's application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to disperse with the commuter trains Nos. 9 and 12 on grounds of financial loss.

The county was urged to join the war to keep the commuters by Joseph V. Colson, Waveland realtor, who observed also that if the train schedule were revised to serve the Michoud stop in New Orleans as well it would be of considerable benefit to Hancock County. Gex suggested the resolution show the federal government had "confiscated one third of the county" while the NASA project and families moving here as a result were demanding more and more services. He contended the ICC should be shown the need for residential growth for the county to operate as a result of the impact of another federal agency's action.

In moving for the resolution, H. G. Dean of Beat 1 suggested local organizations might also urge the L and N to construct a spur line into the test site which would create many industrial sites.

Supervisors seemed in the mood to hire a planning consultant to commence a design for orderly growth in the county and Dean said he would try and get the firm he favored to have a representative at next Monday's meeting to take firm action. He noted that with relocation in the Pearllington area of many fami-

Yule lighting contest Dec. 22

Dec. 22 will be the date for judging the annual Christmas lighting contest of Bay-Waveland Garden Club, Mrs. O. P. Adams, chairman, announced when the board of directors met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Stern with Mrs. Reuben Gray as co-hostess.

The contest is open to all residents in the Bay-Waveland area and Mrs. Adams urged that newcomers make special effort to participate. Those desiring to enter should phone Mrs. Adams at HO7-6386 before dusk on Sunday, Dec. 22, so that judges will be sure to include all decorated homes on their inspection tour that evening.

There will be four classes: best doorway, outdoor tree or other decoration, roof top and over-all decoration.

Mrs. Wallace Chevis, first vice president, presided at the board meeting in the absence of Mrs. Hilaire Ogden and announced that the junior flower show, first scheduled last Wednesday in conjunction with the club's Christmas bazaar, has been postponed until this Friday afternoon at Bay High School.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party for patients at the Gulfport Veterans Administration Hospital yesterday with Mrs. Charles Beyer as Mrs. Seal turned the first shovel of dirt assisted by her grandson, Clay Wagner, and Mrs. Rene de Montuzin, Jr., recited the poem, Trees. Coffee was served afterwards at the center.

Mrs. Waldo Otis was chairman for the past president's tea.

Taste of turkey

On the basis of national averages Hancock County probably has 360 people who would be classified as mentally retarded. As a child he is one whose capacity to learn is limited and whose total development rate is slower than others. As children many of those can be helped by special training and they grow up to be useful and self-supporting citizens.

Our public educational facilities in Hancock County are able to give this special training to 12 children a year but only to those classified as educable. Others even less fortunate but who can be trained and who could have and give some happiness in life are the ones for whom the Hancock Association for Retarded Children tries to provide.

Currently the association operates a Center for Retarded Children in the old King's Daughters Hospital building and is lucky enough to have a qualified teacher for these children. Even on the limited scale the association now operates it needs an estimated $2,500 a year. This is the minimum goal it has set in its membership drive which is now underway.

However, if all those in our county who needed this special training were brought forward by their parents $2,500 would be but a fraction of the amount needed.

The thought or sight of a handicapped child is a sad one, but it is much more so when you realize the handicap might have been lessened if only the dollars and the interested people were available. The Hancock Association for Retarded Children is composed of the people interested in the retarded, the rest of us can help provide the dollars and we bet our Christmas Turkey will taste better if we do.

Statistics don't lie

Reprinted in this page is a release on the meaning of GNP, gross national product, from the very conservative Committee on Constitutional Government. It merits thoughtful reading because of the limitations on the value of GNP that Mr. Paul E. Anderson, the article's author, points up.

While by implication Mr. Anderson may be saying it, he doesn't come right out and get to the point. The administration in power in Washington frequently uses GNP to try to show the public that our country's businesses never had it so good.

GNP with all of its limitations and lack of concrete in its base does give some evidence on how our economy is moving today compared to yesterday's. Never is GNP sufficiently reliable for anyone to use it as a basis for saying "we're going ahead" if "we're dropping behind".

As the saying goes "Statistics don't lie-liars use statistics". GNP only makes it easier for the liars.

Bay High School's chorus or choral group under Mrs. Toy Tedford gave a 30 minute performance for Rotary Club yesterday, and, while we lay no claim to being a music critic, we thought they were real good notwithstanding a giggle or two at one point. Too often we along with others don't recognize or know about these community assets. Incidentally, the group will present a program at Bay High tonight.

GNP

By Paul E. Anderson

In an attempt to bring into focus the always changing, vast and interrelated economy of the United States, a "big average" has been used, known as "GNP" — short for gross national product.

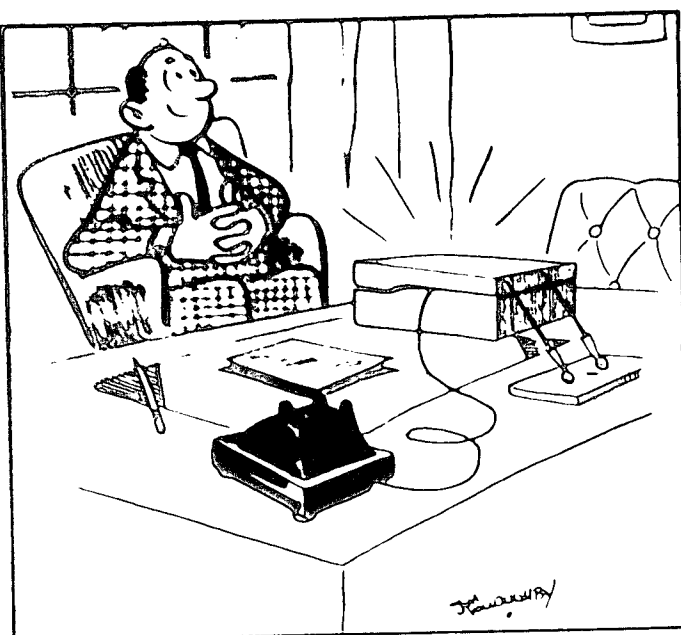

"Gross national product" is a single summed up figure, in billions of dollars, of the estimated market value of this country's output and services, with certain limitations.

GNP is more a measure of economic activity than a yardstick of economic performance.

GNP is really an estimate of many other estimates. It is, to quote one economist, an "arithmetical fiction."

To come to the final total GNP figure, the data in about seventy-five tables is utilized. The tables, cross-referenced and cross-checked, depend upon or come from hundreds of work sheets. Behind them lie thousands of estimates by individual compilers, so that no GNP figure is ever final, and often, during as long as ten years from first publication, the figures are still being corrected.

It is a continuing policy as to what goes into the GNP figure and what is taken out. GNP is presumed to reflect the monetary transactions embodying productive activities, estimating the market value of output of goods and services but not including those which go to produce other goods and services.

Horses, apples and automobiles cannot be added, but their dollar values may be added.

The U. S. Department of Commerce has guidelines to keep guesses and estimates close to the policies set down in the layout period of the work. There is nothing willful about the estimates, but in the nature of the operation and the problem, it is possible for bias to enter and guesses may be fuzzy.

What goes in may sometimes not be as useful as that which is omitted.

GNP does not include or attempt to measure a number of important activities.

Should you repair your own house, your productive activity is not counted. Hire a contractor to do it and his work is counted.

Many arguments about government contributions to economic activity exist, as well as government income and transfer payments.

Wives who work hard and long in homemaking are not counted as productive units. The work of hired domestic help is counted.

And so it goes. The GNP figure has its limitations.

The aim of the Department of Commerce is to try to keep the figures close to what takes place but GNP has a long, long way to go to attain reality. This is shown by the continuing revisions and numerous debates over the years.

GNP figures are issued in "current dollars," uncorrected for inflation or deflation, and in "constant dollars," corrected for inflation or deflation.

Dollars are not a reliable measurement unit. Even in the same year, the value of the dollar may change. Over a period of years, the change may be considerable.

For instance, the 1961 flow figure, as first released, in "current dollars," was $518.7 billion. In "constant dollars," corrected for inflation, the GNP figure was $447.9 billion, a difference of almost $71 billion.

You cannot compare the GNP of this country with the GNP of another country.

Why?

Because there are too many important differences, from country to country, in the bases of the statistics entering into the figure, to permit an honest comparison of the GNP of this country with that of any other nation.

To say that the GNP of another nation has grown faster or slower than the GNP of the United States is, therefore, a meaningless statement, and may be misleading.

You cannot measure GNP. An estimate or collection of estimates gives a total, but it is still a fiction — no matter how carefully prepared.

A single arbitrary figure, like GNP, purporting to show how well our economy is functioning, is intriguing.

But it doesn't tell very much. Certainly not nearly enough on which to base policy decisions affecting the national interest.

It is of the utmost importance to remember the limitations of GNP in setting budget and tax policy, especially when it is proposed to cut taxes without reducing spending to increase the growth rate of GNP.

Watered down?

How civil rights bill got proposed

By JOHN C. SATTERFIELD

Post president, American Bar Assn.

In a way, a person must take for the way it has handled civil rights legislation. The bill now pending in the House of Representatives is, by far, more severe than its predecessors, yet the people believe it is a more moderate offering, a "watered-down" version. And that, by any measure, is no mean trick, making black into white, war into peace.

Every material restriction and every penalty that was incorporated in the first bill is to be found in the legislation now under consideration. Moreover, new powers have been granted the Attorney General.

What changes have been made — and many have been made — are to be found primarily in the bill's public-accommodations section.

The administration struck, for instance, the provisions which would have forced integration on doctors, lawyers and such. And it has changed the meaning of the language dealing with a Federal FEPC.

Consider these alterations. In excluding lawyers and doctors, the sense of the bill wasn't changed at all. All that happened is that two elements — of the economy have been let off the hook. The bill's meaning, for the rest of the people, remains.

And the change in the FEPC is certainly much more encompassing than previously, not otherwise. Now, nearly every business is covered, whereas in the earlier bill only businesses accepting federal financial assistance were included. This change was accomplished by amending the bill's definition of "interstate commerce" from the traditional concept and by broadening the federal FEPC to cover the new definition. It is worth noting the bill authorizes $10 million a year for the federal FEPC to hire federal inspectors to police business.

And the bill's provision which would bring the American educational system — public and private — under the control of the federal government, that this provision of the bill can be sold as "moderate" or something less meaningful than any previous proposal is, indeed, a masterful stroke of political magic.

For that is precisely what this civil rights bill will do; it will allow the President to control the placement of pupils in local schools, it will allow him to approve the faculty, censor textbooks and change study courses. The alternative would be the loss of all federal aid. The child who eats a "free" federal lunch, under this bill, must also study federally approved curriculum as it pertains to races and religion. Under this bill, if the President or an appropriate federal agency believes a social studies book is inaccurate in matters of race or religion, federal aid can be withdrawn from the school making use of the textbook, whether such school be public, private or parochial. Nor is the power contained in this bill a purely negative power. Those which have already accepted federal funds, in some instances, can be compelled by the threat of foreclosures and black-listing to meet the new standards.

Moreover, this bill gives — as the original bill did not — the power for the Attorney General to institute on his own motion, school integration suits, public facility suits, and federal financial assistance suits, not only against individuals but against states and local governments as well. In doing so, it gives to one man a power which has never before existed; previously, as to these matters, the Attorney General could only intervene in private suits.

Under the power contained in this bill, people can be denied the right of trial by jury. Yet it has been sold to the American people as a "moderate" bill, "watered down" bill.

How could it have been? The answer to that makes an enlightening story.

When, on Oct. 29, the House Committee on the Judiciary met to pass or reject the subcommittee consideration, the chairman offered, out of hand, a 56-page substitute which most of the committee members had seen for the first time only minutes before. He instructed the members no amendments to it could be offered, no discussion would be allowed, no questions either asked or answered. Then, he told the clerk to read the bill. Hurriedly, the clerk did so; the chairman had a vote rattled off and peremptorily said the bill had received a do-pass. During much of this action, committee members were on their feet shouting for recognition, denouncing the chairman's high-handedness as unprecedented — as indeed it was. One committee member went so far as to repeatedly bang the desk with an ash tray in an effort to stop the "railroad" procedure. Later, the chairman was to apologize for his conduct. He said it had been "forced" upon him but he did not say by whom.

This was done in "executive session", which means the press and public were excluded. While this action was taking place, a professional worker for the minority group pressing most fervently for this bill, stood outside the committee's closed door and cried to reporters his people were being "sold out".

Sold out, indeed. Concomitantly, the Attorney General issued statements to the press that the bill now before the committee was a "more moderate version" than the earlier bill, that it was a "watered down" version.

Since it was impossible for anyone — even committee members — to question the substitute measure, the press and the public had only the Attorney General's unsubstantiated press releases that the bill was more "moderate" than its predecessor.

Whether this was a true presentation of the measure, whether it came on all fours can only be resolved in the minds of the people. But there can be no question the bill is the most revolutionary legislation submitted to Congress since the Force Bills of the Reconstruction era, and is neither moderate nor "watered down". It is far stronger, harsher and more stringent than the subcommittee proposal for which it was substituted without consideration, debate or opportunity to amend.

Trusting of Hancock General Hospital Tuesday night voted to allow anyone giving $1,000 or more to the hospital to have a room memorialized. The action was taken after Thomas O. Logie, administrator, said he had received inquiries on the point and reported that equipping a room in "first-class" manner costs $400 and up. The board set no minimum amount for memorializing more expensive parts of the hospital.

Trustee Joe K. Duckworth asked that a committee be appointed to go to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors with his suggestion that the supervisors establish a county farm on 16th section land. Board President Cornelius Lader appointed Duckworth chairman of the committee and named Clifton Sauter and Hubert Thigpen, members.

At the board's November meeting, when the board approved the idea, Duckworth explained that he thought the necessary labor could be supplied by prisoners, juvenile delinquents on weekends and on a voluntary basis, and by 4-H club members who had no farm on which to undertake an agricultural project. He also suggested the possibility that hospital debtors might work off their debt that way.

Lader also appointed a committee to look into the pay of the hospital's employees. John D. Rutherford, Jr., was a named chairman with Duckworth and Thigpen members. T. T. Rabaul, Jr., refused appointment to the committee. Lader asked that the committee consider pay raises "from the bottom up or top down" even if it took 60 or 90 days to do.

Citizen meet called on Bay water, sewage

Mayor John A. Scaffie reported progress on plans for a sewerage system and improved water system for Bay St. Louis after he and Commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Warren Traub conferred Monday in Gulfport with Eugene Owen and Joseph Bentley, engineers with Owen and White, Baton Rouge.

Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Yacht Club, the engineers will meet with a citizens advisory committee, being selected by the mayor, to go over the plans and a proposal by which the improvements can be financed.

Any possibility of federal financial assistance through the Communities Facilities Administration seemed ended in October when CFA Commissioner Sidney H. Woolner said he didn't have any more money to allocate from the second appropriation of $450 authorized last May in the emergency program.

Since then Congress has made a small appropriation which could be used for aid to projects such as Bay St. Louis contemplates but there is no indication that any is earmarked for Mississippi.

In October a Project Stabilization Agreement between representatives of labor, business and government was ratified by several national contractor organizations, local and national associations of builders, Gulf Coast Mississippi Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. This provided that there would be no strike, work stoppage or lockout on the part of employees or employers during the three year period of the agreement but the Echo was unable to learn yesterday whether the construction projects involved in this work stoppage are covered by the agreement.

Seasonal tips

PLANTING WINTER CROPS

I know it has been dry all over the state for a period of time and planting has been delayed or germination has been delayed where planting has been done. Winter grazing can be planted through the first part of December, with a chance of good success. For late winter and spring grazing and hay from oats and vetch, farmers should go on and plant. The question is coming up everywhere now: Should fertilizer be applied this late? Yes, apply fertilizer under any plantings regardless of when they are made. The phosphate and potash applied will be there next year.

I would cut the nitrogen rate down to 50 to 60 pounds per acre in place of higher rates. In areas where it has not rained, go on and plant anyway if the land has been prepared. Don't wait until it rains to do the planting.

LIMING

While it is dry in the fall is a good time to spread lime and I see a lot being spread. This is a good time to spread lime and I see a lot being spread. This is a good time to spread lime and I see a lot being spread.

FIRES

Everybody is talking about the dangers of fire and the fires we are having. Fire lanes are the only control I know to be sure of. If anyone goes through a winter where all the pasture has been burned off, they will never let this happen again if they can help it. Even though grasses are dormant, there's a lot of forage on the land for livestock.

RATS COST MONEY

Would you keep animals that eat and spoil your grain, carry disease to your animals and family, kill small animals and chickens, but don't return you one penny? You're doing just what if you allow rats on your farm.

Just 30 rats can eat enough grain annually to feed a dairy cow for one year. One rat can eat about two-thirds as much as a hen. And they waste

NAMED DIRECTOR

J. Roland Weston has been re-elected director at large of the Mississippi Forestry Assn. for 1964 in recognition of his outstanding contributions to and interest in the forestry programs of Mississippi. It was announced by Jim Craig of Jackson, MFA president.

Rats destroy property by gnawing, burrowing, and nesting. Grain bags, paper cartons and wood containers are damaged worst, but even concrete, brick, metal and wood are gnawed. Rats start fires by chewing electric wire insulation and ruin electrical appliances by short-circuiting open switches. And they use inflammable materials to build nests. Rats burrow seriously weaken foundations and basement floors.

Rats carry contagious abortion, distemper, mange, and rabies. All told, over 35 known rat-borne diseases threaten animals and people.

Gnawing and destroying property—biting and killing and spreading disease... constantly eating your produce and food... you can't afford to keep such an animal on your farm.

Pass Invitational

Tigers capture tourney

After slapping down their traditional rivals, St. Stanislaus 76-47, Bay High's basketball Tigers went on to win their first tourney of the year, the Pass Christian Invitational, beating the Pirates 61-50 Saturday night in the Pass High gym.

The Tigerettes had a little trouble finding the basket and dropped the final game to Pass Christian's girls 45-50. With only three teams entered, they drew a bye in the first round while the Tigers played two games.

Two Larrys accounted for the bulk of the Tigers' points in the two games, Larry Harrison with 31 and Larry Johnson with 28. Ross Maurigi tied Harrison for high scorer with 31 and Charles Necaise got 16. Maurigi was voted outstanding player in the tournament.

Bay High got a solid first quarter lead over the Rockchaws Friday night and added to it in every quarter. It was 17-7 in the first then 20-10, 23-21 and 16-9. Coach Willner

Seymour used almost every man on the squad.

It was a different story against Pass Christian, the Pirates hopping off to a 14-9 lead in the first period but Seymour revamped his line-up and the Tigers came back strong to take the second quarter 20-7 and a half-time lead of 29-21. Bay High took the third 19-10 but it was the Pirates turn in the final leading 19-13 against the reserves.

Harrison hit for 20 followed by Johnson with 17 and Maurigi with 13. Wayne Moran was tops for the losers with 28.

Against Stanislaus Maurigi got 18, Necaise 14 and Harrison and Johnson 11 each. Dominic Scafid was high for the Rockchaws with 12 followed by Curtis Matherne with 9.

In the girls' game Pass High got off to a 15-8 start and the Tigerettes were never able to catch them although they took the final stanza 20-12. The Pass girls took the second 12-8 and the third 6-4.

Melva Luke continued to pace the Tigerettes with 24 followed by Sherlyn Cocoran with 9. Carol Scarborough got 25 for the winners.

North Central's girls lost a close one in the opening game and were eliminated by Pass High 49-46 Thursday night. Valerie Malley was high for the Hawkettes with 18. Joyce Smith got 17 and Ladette Palmer 11. Carolyn Scarborough got 26 for the winners.

Gold Jays beat by Pearl River in tournament

A nip and tuck game between two evenly matched teams wound up with St. Joseph Academy on the short end of 62-54 score against Pearl River Central and elimination from the Poplarville Tournament Friday night. Despite a whopping 36-point total chalked up by Mary Jo Artigues, Suzi Rhodes was second high scorer with 10.

At the end of the half it was 26-26. At the end of the third quarter it was 46-43, Pearl River, but the Gold Jays tied the score in the fourth with two minutes to play when Pearl River started pulling away.

The Gold Jays were scheduled to tangle with Pass Christian High last night in the St. Martin Tournament. Coach and Mrs. Joseph Co. son, Gold Jay coach, said she had at least three sick players including Artigues.

Says merchants not interested in HNC

Another complaint that Bay-Waveland merchants seem disinterested in servicing the north county, particularly Hancock North Central School, was voiced by HNC Principal J. D. Penton as he submitted a request to the county school board Saturday for replacement of appliances in the home economics department.

Penton noted that scheduling called for replacement of equipment every year but this had not been done since Hancock North Central was opened in the fall of 1959 so many appliances were in sore need of repair, some not working at all now. He offered a price of $393.75 for replacement now with changes for current models annually over the next few years at now cost from Thigpen Hardware of Pica-yune. Involved are a refrigerator, three electric ranges, a washer, dryer and gas range.

County Superintendent of Education K. G. McCarty suggested Penton check the Hancock County merchants first to which Penton replied he already had done so and had been unable to get an answer from them on any request in the one and a half years he had been in office. He indicated one merchant had been earmarked for the business but did not respond.

The school board claim docket shows only one local major appliance purchase in recent months, that running close to $400, for air conditioning at HNC.

The board told Penton to bring this up when the new county superintendent, Robert F. Ladner, takes office on Jan. 8. He agreed the appliances out of commission could remain in that condition that long.

Otherwise Saturday's board meeting was a quiet one. The superintendent's bookkeeper, Mrs. Estelle Depree, had been ill all week and no more figures were available on erroneous payments to Dalton B. Shourds, architect for the four-classroom addition at HNC. Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the board, suggested a motion be adopted to pay Shourds and he would check personally on discrepancies.

Phillips also was authorized to see pay was made to Hamilton Geenard for repairs to the roof at HNC, upon approval of Architect Fred Wagner, and to Bond Construction Co. for the addition when it tenders its certificate of completion.

McCarty presented a request from Ezell Lee, football coach at HNC, for inclusion of visitors dressing room in the proposed school bond issue but was told it was too late.

Trustees approved two pupil transfers: of Sandra Ladner from Harrison Central to Hancock North Central and of Marjorie Faucetta from North Bay to Gulf view, along with payment of the county's share of tuition on the remedial reading course being conducted by Eric L. Thurston, director of the reading class.

Questioned by the Echo as to the status of the old Flat Top and Aaron Academy Schools in the buffer zone but within the territory assigned to the Pica-yune Municipal Separate School District.

ANNUNCIATION ELECTS

Mrs. Wesley Haas was elected president of the newly formed Parent-Teacher Club of Annunciation Parish School at its meeting Tuesday night. Mrs. Daisy Hudson was chosen vice president while Mrs. Jerry Mitchell will serve as secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for a Christmas party for the pupils on Dec. 19.

Southern adds CEDS to list

Christ Episcopal Day School has won for the first time accreditation from the Southern Assn. of Colleges and Schools, Mrs. C. A. Russ, III, principal, announced upon returning last week from the association's meeting at Memphis, Tenn., when the certificate was awarded.

Christ School, which has received AA rating from the Mississippi Accreditation Commission for the last seven years, was one of 33 elementary schools receiving initial accreditation at the Memphis session. There were two others in Mississippi—Central Elementary at Hattiesburg and Ocean Springs. Re-accredited was Port Gibson Elementary along with 77 others.

The Southern Association governs colleges, junior colleges, secondary and elementary schools in the 11 Southern states from Virginia to Texas and includes 683 elementary schools.

A school just first achieve the highest rating the state accrediting agency grants before it can seek such recognition from the association. A visiting committee from the Southern inspected Christ School for four days last spring to examine the school in view of its report.

Based on recommendation of the inspection group, the faculty then formulated plans for continuing school improvement upon

The L and N Has Flung the Gauntlet NOW IT IS UP TO US

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad has again asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue the commuter effective January 7, 1964.

In advertisements the L and N claims a fifty per cent drop in passengers on trains 9 and 12 between 1955 and 1963, but DOESN'T say that in 1955 the train ran from Ocean Springs to New Orleans and not just from Pass Christian. The FACT is that as many ride the commuter now as did when permission to discontinue was denied over four years ago.

AND it doesn't advertise the fact that in 1959 it raised the cost of commuting over one hundred and fifty per cent. Yes, 150%.

AND it doesn't advertise the fact that it refused point blank to have the commuter stop at Michoud although it knew that if the train stopped there more people would ride it.

AND it doesn't advertise the fact that the commuter does financially better than many of its passenger trains or that the demand for commuter service in this area is increasing as our population booms.

AND it doesn't advertise the fact that the L and N has been so profitable that the price of its stock has almost doubled in recent times.

THE ONLY WAY these facts and others can be brought to the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission is through a public hearing, and the only way to get a hearing is for everyone on the Gulf Coast, to ask for one:

Circle of red and white carnations holding red veiled headpieces and red and white sculptured bouquets. Younger sister Pam was junior bridesmaid and mamma Cleo looked like a third sister in her rust wool sheen with brown accessories and gold orchid corsage. Mrs. Horrell chose blue jersey and wore a white orchid. The Smiths' vacation Lane home was decorated with a profusion of white flowers for the reception following the ceremony.

A very happy birthday wish goes to Mrs. Charles A. Hays who will cut her cake Thanksgiving day. She and Mr. Hays will celebrate the double occasion at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vinson of Metairie Ridge.

Ailing friends

We'll add a couple of names to our sick list... Nellie Loiscano is once more a patient in Hancock General; P. J. Treutel is reported much better after having three operations in as many weeks and a long distance get well wish is on the way to Sam Hand, (Mrs. Hand is the former Eileen Gleim) who suffered a heart attack last Saturday in his New Jersey home.

Phyllis Seuzeneau is recovering from the threat of a fire Monday which if hadn't been noticed by Mrs. Walter Dikes in the adjoining building, could have resulted in a holocaust. A small trash fire fanned by strong northerly winds spread topplings behind a used furniture store on the Beach and when Phyllis called the fire department, she had visions of hundreds of gallons of paint blazing away. Fortunately it wasn't serious... but should act as a warning to trash burners... one spark could cause a tragedy.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY: Gorgeous holly trees burdened with a galaxy of brilliant berries; the scarlet leaves of the dogwoods, almost as lovely as in their white blossomed Easter splendor; an almost waterless beachfront, its sands exposed by low tides displaying remnants of summer joys—a broken oar, sunken stiff and empty bottles and cans and the strange silence of a winter night... broken only by the wall of the wind or an occasional passing train.

Two dedications Sunday

Two dedications took place Sunday... we'll leave the Kiln Anunciation School ceremonies to the talents of our North county reporter, John Necaise, and inform those who weren't present at St. Clare's beautiful new church at 4 p.m. when the official blessing of the church took place of the details. Bishop Richard O. Gerow and a number of visiting clergymen were present for a solemn pontifical mass sung by the Oblate Fathers choir. Just about everyone in the parish and a number of visitors attended the reception which followed in the parish hall. Dinner was served to the bishop and visiting priests at 7 p.m., also in the parish hall.

Honeymooners Terri and 'Doc' Bosch, they were wed here July in a quiet ceremony in the Bosch summer home) enjoyed a long weekend in Waveland.

Jane and Brewster Mollere gave each other an early Christmas gift... a shiny new black station wagon... Jane's thinking about how handy its ninepassenger capacity will be for the six little Molleres; Brewster's picturing it laden with doves, quail, ducks, or what ever happens to be in season at the moment.

It was a bad week for local automobile owners... Joe Kern suffered a catastrophe when his car was struck from behind forcing the front into the car ahead of his Sunday. A trailer hitch saved the back from too much damage, but the front is a mess!

Claiborne Le... has decided to return to the... he's going to raise a bumper crop of straw... Julia and Paul Loup are in the throes of an extensive home remodeling project.

Gripe corner

We've noted a number of discourteous drivers in the past but the nomination or all time heel goes to the driver of a large blue automobile who managed to splash every pedestrian on Main Street immediately after Monday's heavy rainfall... he was travelling at least 40 mph and we're sorry to report the license was a Hancock County one... but he was going too fast to get the number!

The rain stopped and a few rays of sunshine shone obligingly Saturday morning when Joe Ann Smith became the bride of Bill Horrell of Jackson at St. Clare's. Joe Ann was a lovely bride in her traditional length gown of lace featuring a tiered skirt with iridescent sequins sprinkled on the bodice matching those in her tiny pearl tulle. The bridesmaids looked like dolls in chapel length red velvet dresses accented by tulle.

When this issue hits the streets only two weeks less one day will have passed before Santa arrives. For some reason it just doesn't seem like this can be possible... only a week or so ago we were packing Labor Day picnic lunch and now some eager beavers not only have decorations on doors but also have mailed their Christmas cards. Every year we plan to start picking up a gift each week by at least... theoretically, when Thanksgiving arrives, the should be complete. However, either it was too hot last August, or we were too broke, or something... soooonest get on with the column we can begin our usual last minute dash to the local stores before the racks become too depleted.

Christmas gifts already

Waveland Mayor Garfield and wife Lottie Ladner are already displaying two early gifts... son Louis gifted them with a gold wrist watch and a tiny chihuahua, appropriately named Tiny, respectively. The news that had everyone talking last week unfortunately occurred too late for our deadline... Bachelor Bill Ireland has gone the way of all flesh. He and lovely Carrin Carson took the fatal step on Monday, Ala., around 4 p.m. last Wednesday. Carrin and her parents, Mary and Adam Carson have lived in Clermont for the past three months. Adam is with the Corps of Engineers.

Get well wishes go to Mary Catherine Moran who's in the hospital for the second time in less than a month and to Helen Bordages who had surgery in a New Orleans hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Teague are driving around in a lovely brand new red automobile.

Something for nervous souls

We just have to pass this on to our readers... Bess Wagner advertised for a strip tease artist guaranteed to soothe nervous viewers... her name, Tranquil Liza! Gene and Gene Duffilo had their marriage blessed in Christ Church last Tuesday night. Rev. Charles Johnson officiated. Attendees were the same as in the first wedding. Gene's brother-in-law, Nettie and Havard Burleigh. They toasted their champagne at their Clermont Harbor home following ceremony.

Birthdays greetings go to Louise Lynch and Lester Haverty who celebrated the date Friday, Dec. 6. Louise sort of reversed the procedure by treating her customers to coffee and Lester's friends to something a bit stronger!

Wileen and Billy Breland had a sad awakening last Monday morning when they discovered the interior of their lovely red car burned crisp. Fortunately insurance will cover repair, but they fear it will eliminate the nauseating odor.

Sympathy is extended to John Russell upon the death of his mother, Mrs. L. Russell who passed away last Thursday in Walnut Ridge, Ala. at the age of 97.

Employees of Tennessee Gas Company enjoyed their annual Christmas party at Gus Stevens last Thursday night.

It appears that last week's Mystery of the Week caused so much speculation we'd better hasten to explain that our 'lover' is not a thief, thus entitled to pursue any amours he chooses.

Strange ways of thieves

Jack Baum is still scratching his head trying to figure out what the purpose of a recent theft of locks at Jimey Jungle... he wonders just what the thief was thinking about when he stole a lock to lock up his own possessions... guess our burglar isn't a very trusting soul.

Most of the Kennedy clan will get together for Christmas holidays for the first time in 17 years at the home of Faye (Mrs. John) Kennedy. Two sisters from Rushville, Ind., Mrs. Joan Stout and three children and Mrs. William Gilpin, Mr. Gilpin and their three children arrive the 22nd. Derrell Kennedy will also be present as he has a leave from the U. S. Army, he's stationed at Fort Polk and of course all local family members, Glenda Kennedy and Pat Faye, will join in the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Steinmeyer plan to celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary with a night on the town in New Orleans Dec. 21 before departing for Jackson where they will spend Christmas with their daughter and family. We offer them our warmest congratulations although we still find it difficult to believe that two such youthful people have been wed that many years.

We hear that the coffee hostess by Mrs. Duralde Claiborne at her Crescent City home last Wednesday was one of the loveliest of the season. The centerpiece, a camellia 'tree' caused much talk and all over the place... a partial list of guests includes Mrs. Kennedy, Rosemary McFarland, Caroline Argus, Dorothy Steinmeyer, Elise Kellogg, Mabel Carter, Mrs. Fred Phillips, Mrs. Otto Schupp, Mrs. Ted Robin, Virginia Wagner and Mrs. Fred Fisher.

Thanksgiving in Clermont
Our former Clermont Harbor correspondent, Rae Cope, reports the Thanksgiving Day dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. A. Cope, assisted by their son-in-law and daughter, Bob and Theo Cope, at the family home on Bordages Street in Clermont was a most successful occasion. The honor of carrying the golden brown 18-lb turkey went to Lester Schmidt of New Orleans, Bob's brother-in-law who officiated so skillfully his audience was soon aware of master's hand held the knife that sliced the juicy light and dark portions he arranged so expertly on the server before him.

Delicious delectable foods were arranged around the piece de resistance to which guests with grateful thanks served themselves buffet fashion. Attending were Mrs. Lester Schmidt, Bob's sister, Shelia and her son, Lester, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cope, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pissocqua of New Orleans, the Pissocquas being holiday house guests, and Mrs. Rae Cope. As Rae recently hasn't lost her descriptive touch, we've quoted her verbatim.

regulations governing the subdivision of land in the Town of Waveland, Mississippi; therefore BE IT ORDAINED that the following subdivision regulations be and they are hereby adopted:

SECTION 1. GENERAL.

It is suggested that each subdivider of land confer with the Town Planning Commission, or its consultants, before preparing the preliminary plan, in order to become thoroughly familiar with subdivision requirements and with the Town's Land Use Plan, affecting the area in which the proposed subdivision lies.

SECTION 2. DEFINITIONS.

(a) Subdivision - For the purpose of these regulations, a subdivision of land is

(1) the division of land into 2 or more lots, tracts, sites or parcels any one of which has an area of less than 3 acres, or

(2) the dedication of a road, highway or street through a tract of land regardless of area, or

(3) the re-subdivision of land hereinafter divided into lots, tracts, sites or parcels; provided, however, that these regulations shall not apply to

(4) a subdivision legally established and recorded prior to the adoption of these regulations, or

(5) small parcels of land sold or exchanged to or between existing property owners upon certification by the Town Planning Commission that such sale or exchange does not create additional lots and does not conflict with the area requirements of the Zoning Law of the Town of Waveland.

(b) Whenever the word "Commission" is used in these Rules and Regulations, it shall be deemed to refer to the Town Planning Commission of the Town of Waveland, Mississippi.

(c) Major Street - a street shown on the Land Use Plan adopted by the Commission on July 2, 1963, or a revision or extension thereof.

(d) "Lot, Tract, Plot, Plat, or Plan" or any area with similar designation all mean the same for the general purpose of these Regulations.

SECTION 3. JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURE.

(a) Jurisdiction

Every subdivision of land within the area embraced within the corporate limits of the Town of Waveland or any revisions or extension thereof, shall be shown on a plat and submitted to the Commission for approval or disapproval. Any final plat which has been approved by the Commission and endorsement shown thereon shall be recorded in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County not later than thirty (30) days following date of approval or said approval shall be deemed void. It shall be the duty of the Town Clerk of Waveland to see that this recording is completed within the thirty (30) day period.
No plan or plat of property within the corporate limits of Waveland shall be recorded in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, and no lots shall be sold from such plat unless and until approved as hereinabove provided.

(b) Procedure

The subdivider shall submit a preliminary subdivision plan directly to the office of the Commission.

The plan should be a preliminary sketch showing the general details and character of the proposed development which shall be checked against the minimum standards and requirements hereinafter provided. If such preliminary subdivision plan conforms to all such standards, or after the subdivider and the Commission agree upon any revisions, the said plan shall be approved by the Commission, the revised copy shall be filed with the Commission and the subdivider may proceed with the staking of the streets and lots and with the installation of the necessary physical improvements.

After the improvements shall have been installed and approved, or after surety bond, securing to the Town of Waveland an amount adequate to cover the cost of the improvements, shall have been filed with the Commission, the subdivider may bring his final plat to the Commission for final approval. If the improvements are approved by the Commission and if the final plat conforms with the preliminary plan filed in the office of the Commission, such final plat shall be approved at either a regular or special meeting of the Commission. Said final plat may then be filed with the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County.

SECTION 4. STANDARDS OF DESIGN.

(a) Acre Subdivision

Whenever the area is divided into lots containing one or more acres and there are indications that such lots will eventually be resubdivided into smaller building plots, consideration must be given to the street and lot arrangement of the original subdivision so that additional minor streets can be opened which will permit a logical arrangement of smaller lots.

(b) Relation to Adjoining Street System

The arrangement of streets in new subdivisions shall make provision for the continuation of the principal existing streets to a joining area (or their proper extension) where adjoining land is not subdivided) insofar as they may be deemed necessary by the Commission for public requirements, and streets, alleys or servitudes shall be provided for the continuation of the existing utility mains and lines in adjoining areas. The width of such streets in new subdivisions shall not be less than the minimum street widths established herein.
The street and alley arrangement must also be such as to cause no hardship to owners of adjoining property when they plat their own land and seek to provide for convenient access to it. In general, provisions should be made for thorough streets at intervals of approximately one-half mile or less. Offset streets should be avoided.

Streets that are obviously in alignment with others already existing shall bear the names of the existing streets.

The Commission shall cause to be assigned municipal numbers to all lots and shall disapprove duplicating street names.

(c) Streets In Relation to Railroads, Expressways and Parkways

When the area to be subdivided adjoins or contains, for a considerable distance, a railroad right-of-way, an expressway or a parkway, a street should be dedicated approximately parallel to the side of such right-of-way and in determining the distance of such parallel street from the right-of-way of the railroad, expressway or parkway, consideration should be given to the distance required for approach grades and interchanges to future grade separations.

(d) Street and Alley Widths

(1) The widths for major streets shall conform to the widths designated on the Land Use Plan, as adopted by the Commission, and to all subsequent amendments and additions thereto.

(2) The minimum width for secondary or minor streets shall be fifty (50) feet, except that in cases where special conditions make a street of less width more suitable, the Commission may waive the above requirements.

(3) Where it is desirable to subdivide a tract of land, which because of its size or location, does not permit an allotment directly related to a normal street arrangement, there may be established one or more "Places". Such a "Place" may be in the form of a court, a deadend street, or other arrangement; provided, however, that proper access shall be given to all lots from a dedicated "Place" (Street or Court). Such a "Place" shall terminate in an open space (preferably circular) having a minimum radius of fifty (50) feet. Except in unusual instances no deadend street or "Place" shall exceed one thousand (1000) feet in length.

(4) The minimum width of an alley in a residential block shall be fifteen (15) feet, but such alleys are not recommended except under unusual conditions. Alleys shall be required in the rear of all business lots and shall be at least twenty (20) feet in width. A minimum five-foot cut-off shall be made at all acute angle alley intersections, and at especially acute angle alley intersections a greater than 5-foot cutoff may be required.
Adequate provision for off-street parking is to be made in connection with all planned business lots. Under normal conditions, the subdivider of commercial property shall provide twice as much area for parking as is to be devoted to the ground floor of commercial buildings. In areas where apartment housing is proposed for three or more families, provisions shall be made for off-street parking so that a minimum of 65% of the living units are cared for on the basis of one car per family. Where public parking facilities are available within 600 feet of such multiple family dwellings, the Commission may permit a reduction of the off-street parking area hereafter provided.
Proper provisions shall be made for off-street parking in areas occupied by churches, schools and other places of public congregation.

(5) Where alleys are not provided, non-exclusive easement of not less than five (5) feet in width shall be provided on each side of all rear lot lines within the subdivision to provide access for the installation and maintenance of poles, wires, conduits and other utilities, which easement shall be part of the yard area and shall remain unobstructed except for fences.
Easements of greater width may be required along or across lots where necessary for the extension of main storm and sanitary sewers and other utilities and where both water and sewer lines are located in the same easement.

(e) Blocks

(1) No block shall be longer than fifteen hundred (1500) feet between street lines.

In blocks over seven hundred and fifty (750) feet in length the Commission may require a cross-walk near the center of the block. The right-of-way for such walks shall not be less than ten (10) feet in width.

(2) In planning normal residential lots containing an area of from 6000 to 15,000 square feet, it is recommended that the depth of the block not exceed three hundred (300) feet.

(f) Lots

(1) All side lines of lots should be at right angles to straight street lines, or radial to curved street lines unless a variation to these rules will give a better street and lot plan. Lots with double footage should be avoided.

(2) Except as provided in Paragraph 'g' of this Section the average minimum width of residential lots within each block shall be fifty (50) feet at the building lines and a rectangular or irregular-shaped lot that is to be used for residential purposes shall contain an area of not less than four thousand (4000) square feet; provided, however, that where the lot area regulations of the zoning ordinance require a larger lot area, then the minimum area requirement of the zoning ordinance shall govern.

(3) Corner lots should have extra width to permit the establishment of front building lines on both the front and the side of the lots adjoining the streets where the rear property lines of said corner lots about lots fronting on the side street. Extra widths should be provided on all corner lots irrespective of whether the rear lot lines of said corner lots about lots fronting on the side streets.

(4) Lots on major street intersections and at all other acute angle intersections which, in the opinion of the Commission, are likely to be dangerous to traffic movement shall have a radius of twenty (20) feet at the street corner. On business lots a chord may be substituted for the circular arc. Where grade separation structures are proposed at the intersection of major streets, the lots and improvements in the subdivision shall be arranged so as to make adequate provision for such structures.

(g) Exceptions in Neighborhood Unit Developments

Whenever a subdivision is developed as a neighborhood unit, wherein adequate park or playground is provided, through traffic is adequately cared for and the majority of the minor streets are of the cul-de-sac type, the Commission may vary the requirements of Paragraphs "d", "e" and "f" of this Section in order to allow the subdivider more freedom in the arrangement of streets and lots; however, the Commission shall insure that the convenience, health, welfare and safety of the probable future residents of the subdivision as well as the character of the surrounding property and the general welfare of the entire county are protected. The average lot area per family shall not be less than the requirement of the zoning regulations in the area being subdivided and in no event shall it be less than four thousand (4000) square feet per family.

(h) Building Lines

Building lines shall not be less than those required by the zoning ordinance.

(i) Character of Development

Where the subdivision contains sewers, water supply system, park areas, street trees or other physical facilities necessary or desirable for the welfare of the area or that are for common use or benefit which are not or cannot be satisfactorily maintained by any existing public agency, provision shall be made by trust agreement, which shall become a part of the deed restrictions, acceptable to any agency having jurisdiction over the location and improvement of such facilities, for the proper and continuous maintenance and supervision by the subdivider of such facilities.

(j) Parks, School Sites, Etc.

In subdividing property, consideration shall be given to suitable sites for schools, parks, playgrounds, and other common areas for public use so as to conform to the recommendations of the Commission. Any provisions for schools, parks or playgrounds shall be indicated on the preliminary plan in order that it may be determined when and in what manner such areas will be developed, or, acquired by the appropriate agency. When this is determined it shall be the duty of the Town Clerk to see that the necessary recording of sales and or dedications of public areas has been completed.

(k) Stream Improvements and Easements Along Streams

(1) No individual, partnership, or corporation shall deepen, widen, fill, reroute, or change the location of any existing ditch, stream, drain or drainage canal without first obtaining permission from the Town's Consulting Engineer or any other agency having jurisdiction thereover. Plans for such deepening, widening, filling, rerouting or changing the location of any existing ditch, stream, drain or drainage canal shall comply with the specifications of the Town's Consulting Engineer or any other agency having jurisdiction thereover, and shall be constructed under their supervision.

(2) Whenever any existing canal or important surface drainage course is located in an area that is being subdivided the subdivider shall dedicate a servitude of not less than 50' in width (minimum 25 ft. on either of a designated center line) along such canal or important surface drainage course.

(l) Land Adjacent to Open Drainage Canals, Open Ditches, Borrow Pits, Etc.

Whenever there is proposed a subdivision of land adjacent to open drainage canals, open ditches, borrow pits, etc., the development of such land as a subdivision for residential purposes shall not be permitted without adequate safeguards against the dangerous conditions created by such residential subdivision use. Such safeguards shall be maintained by the property owners.

SECTION 5. IMPROVEMENTS.

Plans for the improvement required in this section shall be prepared by a licensed and registered engineer or surveyor, as applicable. The improvements listed below in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e) of this section shall be installed prior to the approval of the final plat, which is prepared for recording purposes.
In lieu of the completion of such improvements the subdivider shall file a surety bond with the Commission to secure to the Town of Waveland the actual construction of such improvement in a satisfactory manner, within a period not exceeding two years. Such bond shall be an amount adequate to cover the cost of the improvements as determined by the Commission and with surety and conditions satisfactory to the Commission.

The Owner of the tract may prepare and secure tentative approval of a final subdivision plat of the entire area and may install the above improvements only in a portion of such area, but the improvement must be installed or bond posted to cover such installations in any portion of the area for which a final plan is approved for recording, and the owner may sell or lease or offer for sale or lease lots only in the improved portion of said property, provided, however, that trunk sewers and sewage treatment plant and other utilities be designed and built to serve the entire area or designed and built in such a manner that they can easily be expanded, or extended, as the case may be, to serve the entire area.

(a) Permanent Markers

All intersections of the subdivision boundary property line and all intersections of street property lines within the subdivision shall be marked with permanent monuments. A permanent marker shall be deemed to be 1/4 inch or larger brass rod cast in a concrete post with a minimum dimension of four (4) inches extending a minimum of three (3) feet below the ground line or steel pipe firmly imbedded in concrete which extends a minimum of three (3) feet below the ground line. Should conditions prohibit the placing of monuments in line, off-set marking will be permitted, provided, however, that the exact off-set corners and distances are shown on the subdivision plat.

Where a benchmark is not existing within reasonable distance a permanent benchmark shall be accessibly placed, the elevation of which shall be based on sea level datum as determined by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, and accurately noted on the subdivision plat.

(b) Street Improvements

All streets must be graded, the roadway improved by surfacing and sidewalks installed.
Roadway surfacing and sidewalk construction shall be in accordance with standard specifications as provided by the Town's Consulting Engineer. The type of surfacing shall be determined by the Town's Consulting Engineer and his approval shall be stamped and signed on all such plans. On all streets which have been offered to the Town of Waveland for dedication, all grading, surfacing and sidewalk construction shall be done under the supervision of and approval by the Town's Consulting Engineer. On streets not offered for dedication, it shall be the duty of the subdivider to furnish to the Commission a certificate from a competent engineer certifying that such streets have been constructed in accordance with the specifications furnished by the Town's Consulting Engineer.

(c) Water Lines

(1) Where the public water supply is already reasonably accessible the subdivider shall enter into an agreement with the Town's Water and Gas Department for the extension of the said public water system, including the Water and Gas Department's standard installation of valves, fire hy-drants, etc., so that public water service shall be available for each lot within the subdivided area.

(2) Pending availability of a public water supply, the subdivider shall construct a private water supply system in divisor shall construct a pri-
such a manner that an adequate supply of potable water will be available to every lot within the subdivision. The source of water supply and the distribution system shall comply with the requirements of the Sanitary Code of the State of Mississippi for a public water supply system and must be approved by the Hancock County Health Officer. It is understood, however, that there shall be no obligation on the part of the Town's Water and Gas Department to incorporate the said private system of water supply, or any part thereof, into any public system of water supply that may be built in the future.

(d) Sewers

(1) If the subdivision is so located that it can reasonably be served by the extension of any future public sanitary sewer the subdivider shall enter into an agreement with the Town of Waveland for the extension of the said sewer so that sanitary sewer service shall be available for each lot within the subdivided area.

(2) Where no sewers are accessible the subdivider may, upon securing a written permit from the Mississippi State Board of Health and/or the Hancock County Health Officer, install septic tanks or other mechanical means of sewage disposal for each lot or group of lots, provided that such septic tanks or similar mechanical means of sewage disposal must be approved by the county Health Officer and shall be installed in accordance with the Sanitary Code of the State of Mississippi.

(3) Adequate provision shall be made for the disposal of storm water subject to the approval of and under the supervision of the Town's Consulting Engineer.

SECTION 6. PRELIMINARY PLAN.

In seeking to subdivide land into building lots, or to dedicate streets, alleys, or land for public use, or to subdivide land into building lots, together with the dedication or reservation of public or private streets respectively, the owner shall submit seven (7) black-and-white copies of the preliminary sketch plan to the Commission before submission of the final plat. Plans containing five (5) lots or less may be exempted from the provisions of this Section.

The preliminary plan is to be drawn to a scale of 100 feet to the inch, but if the subdivision contains more than 160 acres the plan may be at a scale of 200 feet to the inch, and shall show:

(a) The location of present property, section, township and County lines and lines of incorporated areas, and other legally established districts, streets, buildings, water courses, and other features within the area to be subdivided and similar facts regarding existing conditions on land immediately adjacent thereto.

(b) The proposed location and width of streets, alleys, lots, and servitudes and the location and extent of any fences required under Section 4, paragraph (1).

(c) Existing sanitary and storm sewers, water lines, culverts and other underground structures within the tract and immediately adjacent thereto.

(d) The title under which the proposed subdivision is to be recorded, appropriate evidence of ownership of tract to be subdivided, the name of the subdivider and the name of the engineer, or surveyor, if any, planning the tract.

(e) The names of all common boundary corners of all adjoining subdivisions and the names of record owners of all property immediately adjoining the subdivision.

(f) Contours with intervals of two feet or less referred to sea level datum as determined by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

(g) North point, scale and date.

(h) The zoning classification of the property to be subdivided.

(i) Plans or written and signed statements regarding the grades of proposed street, and the width and type of pavements; location, size, type of sanitary sewers or other sewerage disposal facilities, gas mains, water mains and hy-drants, street lighting and other utilities; storm water drainage facilities and other proposed improvements, such as sidewalks, planting and parks, and any grading of individual lots.

No preliminary plan of a subdivision shall be acted on by the Commission without affording a hearing thereon. After receipt of the application for tentative approval of the preliminary plan and the seven copies thereof, the Secretary of the Commission shall fix the date for a hearing on the proposed subdivision. A quorum of the Commission shall be required for such hearing.

Notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be sent to the owner or owners, whose names and addresses must appear on the preliminary plan, by registered mail not less than five days before the date fixed for the hearing. Similar notice shall be mailed to the subdivider and to the owners of land immediately adjoining the land proposed to be subdivided as their names and addresses appear upon the plan. These names and ad-resses shall be checked from the records of the Town Clerk's office before any mail is forwarded.

Approval of the tentative preliminary plan does not constitute final acceptance of the subdivision by the Commission. One copy of the approved tentative preliminary plan, signed by the Chairman of the Commission, shall be retained in the office of the Commission and one signed copy shall be given to the subdivider.

Receipt of this signed copy is authorization for the subdivider to proceed with the preparation of plans and specifications for the minimum improvements required in Section 5 of these Rules and Regulations and with the preparation of the final plat. Prior to the construction of any improvements required in Section 5, or to the submission of any bond, the subdivider shall furnish the Commission with general plans, information and data necessary for said improvements. These plans shall be examined by the Commission and will be approved if in accordance with the requirements of Section 5 of these Rules and Regulations. Following this approval of the preliminary plan, construction can be started or the amount of bond determined.

If the final plat conforms to the approved preliminary plan, and if the necessary improvements are constructed in accordance with the approved plans, or a satisfactory bond submitted assuring their construction in accordance with the approved plans, the final plat shall be approved by the Commission.

SECTION 7. FINAL PLAT.

The final plat on tracing cloth and seven (7) black-and-white prints thereof, and three (3) prints of certified plans showing the improvements that have been constructed within the subdivision (or, in case a bond has been furnished assuring construction of said improvements, three (3) prints of certified plans showing the improvements which are to be constructed) shall be submitted to the Commission. Before approving the plan of all or part of a proposed subdivision, the Commission will require proof that the improvements and revisions thereof, required in Section 5, have been satisfactorily completed, or that a bond has been furnished assuring their completion. The Commission shall act upon the final plat within sixty (60) days after it has been submitted unless the subdivider agrees to an extension of this period. The approval of the Commission shall be shown on the plat with the date of such approval and over the signature of the Chairman of the Commission.

The final plat is to be drawn at a scale of 100 feet or less to the inch from an accurate survey.
Where the subdivided area is of unusual size or shape, the Commission may permit a variation in the scale. If more than two (2) sheets are required, an index sheet of the same dimensions shall be filed showing the entire subdivision on one sheet together with all areas shown on other sheets.

The final plat shall show:

Chamber group to distribute questionnaires

Printed postal cards to be placed in metal holders in 25 locations in Hancock County were distributed to the planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce when it met Tuesday at Ray's Restaurant.

Rev. Emory Green and Rev. Charles Johnson of the clergy committee asked that other members of the group assist them in placing the cards and holders in strategic locations. It is hoped that newcomers will fill out these brief questionnaires stating church preferences, hobbies, civic and social clubs and sports in which they are interested and mail them to the Chamber. They will in turn be contacted by groups of organizations listed on the forms thus assisting them to more rapidly take part in community activities.

Tom Logue moved that the committee write the Hancock County board of supervisors commending its foresight in employing the Michael Baker firm for a survey of industrial possibilities for the county.

Mrs. Polly Fagen reported a favorable reply to her letter to WWL-TV regarding a Hancock County program, but due to Louisiana elections, this would have to take place after the middle of January.

A location for a rocket park near the east entrance to the county was also discussed.

1,000th mark in atmosphere tests reached

The 1,000th radiosonde transmitter was released last week at Mississippi Test Operations just over a year after the atmospheric measuring group was established there.

These transmitters are sent aloft several times daily attached to six-foot balloons to study the temperature, humidity and direction and wind velocity in the atmosphere, going as high as 100,000 feet. The balloons burst in the upper stratosphere and the four-foot parachutes lower the radiosondes to earth.

An acoustic testing station was established at the same time the atmospheric measuring group was founded and its crew, under contract with Raytheon Co., has been studying effects of sound with the aid of a large exponential horn. Lee Paul heads the eight-man Raytheon outfit. Lelyn Nybo is new chief of the atmospheric measuring group.

Teen Times

With the arrival of that jolly little fellow in the bright red suit just around the corner, no one seems to be able to concentrate on anything else around this time. In our annual survey of what local teen-agers most want for Christmas we've come up with about the same answers we got last year. New clothing tops most lists for both boys and girls, although transistor radios, stereos, hair dryers, watches, electric razors and the like will be found under a number of trees. Several mothers we've talked to have decided that a nice fat check would be most appreciated by their offspring. We also have an idea that several young ladies around town will receive going steady rings. . . these definitely are not engagement rings. . . its more like wearing a fraternity pin and they are very popular gifts.

St. Stanislaus seniors are proudly displaying their rings which were presented Thursday. C. J. Heitzmann and Frank Lagarde are picking up extra cash working at Jitney Jungle in their spare time.

Jay Lagasse already has one of his Christmas gifts. . . he and sister Jeanne got a lovely collie christened Holland's Star last week.

Al Ladner, who received offers from several large universities, decided upon the University of Southern Mississippi where he has a full four year athletic scholarship. Al and his parents went to Hattiesburg Saturday to sign the grant-in-aid.

Welcome to teen times Lucy Carver. Lucy was 13 on Dec. 9.

A belated happy birthday wish goes to Barbara Noonan. She celebrated her 17th at a party at her Coleman Avenue home Saturday night, Nov. 30. Older sister Pat, who works in the Crescent City, came over to help Barbara celebrate.

Susan Arnold and Mary Elizabeth Lagarde were also birthday girls last week; Susan was 14 Dec. 8, Mary Elizabeth on the 6th.

Marcia Kidd, a sophomore boarding student at St. Joseph, who lives in La Lima, Honduras, was the weekend guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. F. Mitchell and Mr. Mitchell.

Sally Scharf and Dick Mestayer, were selected as outstanding freshmen at Bay High school.

Christy Torgersen, who has decided she prefers a career to college life, is sharing an apartment in New Orleans with Toni White and two other girls.

Janet Trapani, a student at a Crescent City business college, spent the weekend with her parents.

Gary Burrow was among the many Southern students returning to Hattiesburg last Monday.

Billy Thomas is following in the footsteps of older brother, Teddo—he too signed a football contract for a full scholarship at a state university. Billy decided on Mississippi State and closed the deal Saturday. Teddo is making quite a name for himself on the LSU frosh squad.

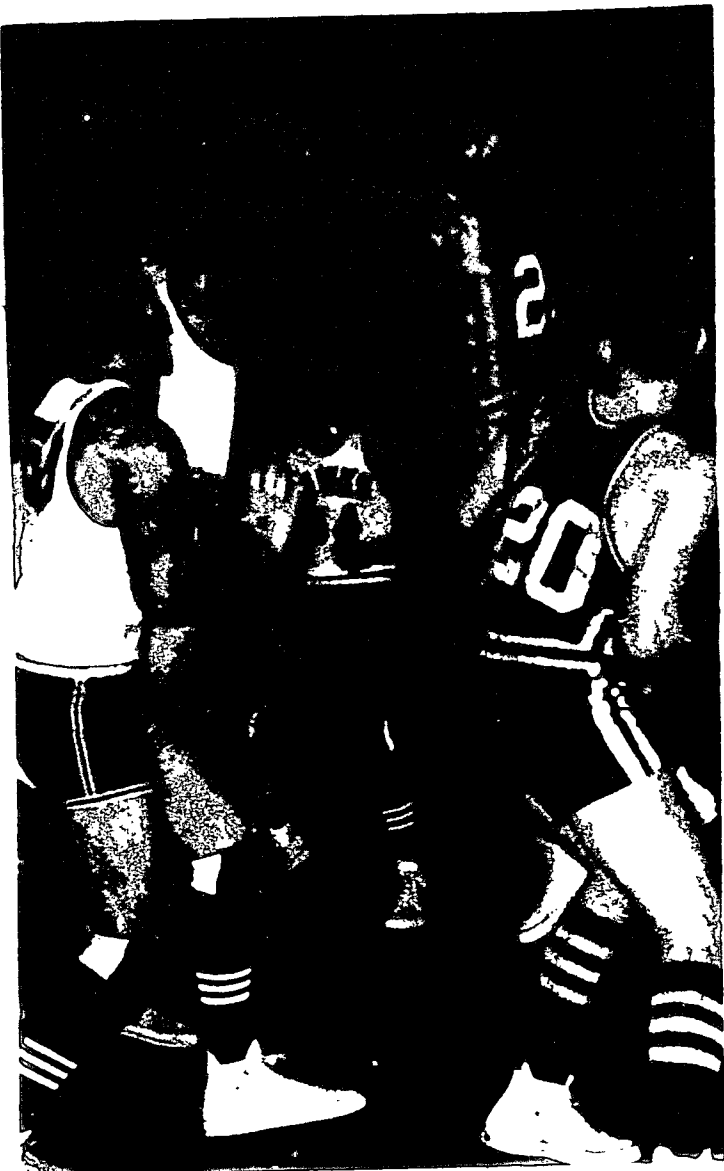

J. P. Compretta returned home for the weekend after having surgery on his knee (an old football injury) in a Hattiesburg Hospital Nov. 25. He'll have to depend on his crutches for one more week.

The Bay High Christmas dance will be Dec. 19 and we've picked up the names of those who'll reign over the affair. Judy West is to be queen; Al Ladner, king, and serving as maids and dukes will be Judy Compretta, Piji White, Terry Gaudin, Stanley Burch, Billy Thomas and Johnny Penzon.

Sandra Hinson, Bay High graduate who has been attending Medford Oregon Business College in New Orleans, completed her finishing course at a style show Monday night. The affair was held at the Broadview Restaurant and Sandra modeled a dress she had made. Going into the Crescent city for the occasion were her mother, Mrs. James Hinson, Mrs. Orlean Harkins, Long Beach and Diana (Mrs. Bert) Courtege.

Stanislaus seniors in New Orleans last weekend to take their college boards were Charles Lovings, Steve Wyatt, Joseph Valles, Sonny Chastant, Jim Wentworth, Russ Sanders, Albert Lacombe, Juan Case, Richard Stinson, Paul Flister, David Fitzgerald, Lucky Loozes, George Rick, Mariano Guas and Carroll Neyrey.

HAWKS, TIGERS GRAB FOR BALL, HAWKS WON 66-50

North County News

By JOHN NECAISE

The Beta Club of HNC spent much of its time last week working on material for the mental health drive going on in the county. The organization frequently takes part in drives such as this.

In a general assembly last week head Hawk football coach Ezell Lee thanked publicly the band, students and parents for the support given to the three year-old Hawks this season. Coach Lee said he wouldn't have been able to have made it through the season without his assistant, Pat Morris.

He paid tribute to all the boys with special attention to the two Hawks who were selected by the Gulf Coast Athletic Conference the all-star team: quarterback Eddie Peterson and end Berlin Ladner who were both presented certificates.

Seventh and eighth graders moved from the high school plant into their brand spanking new junior high building Nov. 27 after two months of fighting ones way through a somewhat crowded hall between classes. I can't say I was sorry to see them go. The students should be able to enjoy school more now and make straight A's. (Come on junior higher and lets see how a different environment affects one's mental outlook.)

Congratulations to Ann, Vivian, Clinton, Berlin, Romona and Rze Ann (seniors) who all received passing marks on their research papers.

Sophomores of HNC presented a comedy sketch which supposedly took place on a school bus. The whole thing was darling and special applauds should go to sophomore sponsors Mrs. J. C. Harrel and Ed Penton. Having principal parts were Adron Pouncy, Beverly Peterson, Lena Page, Ann Moran, Diane Bayar, Ernest Farrelly, Andy Moore, Claudette Lee, Ann Bennette and Tommy Dobbs.

The past couple of weeks have been busy ones for the hospital in our area. Someone was either being admitted or discharged that was of local interest.

Ronda Mae Ladner of White Cypress was admitted to Gulfport Memorial last week. She is reported improved.

J. C. Ladner of Necaise Crossing was recently discharged from Crosby Memorial, Piquette, after undergoing major surgery. Also released from Crosby Memorial recently was Linda Gay Sautier of Necaise Crossing. Denford Ladner was released from Crosby last week after having some back trouble.

Lunnie Ladner of Necaise Crossing has also been having a little back trouble. Another poor soul, Eva Lee Spiers has been going through agony with a broken finger.

Shirley Bond of White Cypress and Kerman Ladner of Fenton journeyed to Jackson recently for that physical that Uncle Sam always seem to execute.

Shiloh Baptist Church's members who attend Sunday School regularly received B.S.S. pins recently from their pastor, Rev. J. O. Lee.

16th birthday. Another belated birthday wish goes to Elmer Ferguson, HNC senior.

ACTION IN BAY HIGH-NORTH CENTRAL GAME LAST WEEK

Inghouse of Necaise Crossing was Amy Ladner of Gulfport. Elaine visited Mrs. Boyd Bond in Silver Run last Sunday.

Mrs. Agnes Ladner and Carrie Gatewood of Kila were in Gulfport last Saturday visiting friends at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. While in the city they visited Mrs. Ladner's son, Howard.

The junior high plant isn't the only new look at the Hancock Hancock North Central School.

Three girls seeking their bachelor of science degrees from the University of Southern Mississippi are doing their practice teaching there. They are Joyce Stanford, Ithaca, Y. Y., 3rd grade with Mrs. Majorie Cuevas; Martha Allison of Bay St. Louis, 7th grade with J. C. Harrel or Mr. Moran; and Paula Reynolds, Kiln, 2nd grade with Mrs. Carl Moran.

Mrs. Agnes Ladner of Kiln spent Thanksgiving with her son, Superintendent of Education-elect Robert Ladner and family of Waveland.
